Library to be renamed in honor of Leanna Hicks

In official ceremonies scheduled for Feb. 22, the Inkster Public Library will be renamed the Leanna Hicks Library.

The tribute is in honor of Hicks' tireless devotion to promote the public library and to maintain the City of Inkster's artifacts and archives for nearly half of century.

"Mrs. Hicks is someone we all love and respect. This dedication is only a small way we can say how much we appreciate what she has done for all of us over the years.

"She has preserved our past and guaranteed that future generations will know and can identify with the past," said Gloria Steele, Chaplain-Inkster Library and Historical Commission.

The Feb. 22 dedication ceremony will also feature James Mason and the Buffalo Soldiers reenactors.

The program will begin at 7 p.m. at the Inkster Public Library, 2005 Inkster Road.

Hicks is a former journalist whose work has been featured in

The Inkster Ledger Star. She has spent much of the past 40 years on improving the local library. She also serves as the city's official historian.

Mrs. Hicks has been the recipient of numerous humanitarian awards from some prominent institutions such as the YWCA, Girl Scouts of America, veteran groups, the NAACP, Gamma Phi Delta Sorority, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, City of Inkster Parks and Recreation and the Inkster Christians in

She was also named the "Woman of the Year" by The Inkster Ledger Star.

Mrs. Hicks also has been actively involved in her church for the past 50 years. She is a member of the Springhill Baptist Church in Inkster.

Mrs. Hicks received a bachelor of arts, with a major and minor in journalism and Social Studies from Wayne State University and Eastern Michigan University.

She is currently vice president, also president emeritus of the Inkster Library Board of Trustees, and vice president (president emeritus) of the Inkster Historical Commission. She has overseen hundreds of acquisitions and historical collections.

Mrs. Hicks also is the founder of The Friends of the Inkster Library, a 20-year old Inkster Library support group. She has held positions with the Wayne County Federation Library and the Wayne County Library Commission.

'Lake Inkster'

The recent thaw of record-setting snow created a 'new lake' in the City of Inkster. The lake dominates what was once the Historic Lower Rouge Parkway, off of Inkster Road, where children used to play soccer and baseball. But the waters should dissipate (hopefully) before the cries of "Play Ball" are heard in the park or else swimming classes will be staged and not baseball games in the city's popular parkway. The thaw also has created huge potholes, and collapsed some roadways that gobble up cars. So, be careful out there. Photo by Carl Brown

Future teacher grants of scholarships available

Thanks to the Regional Educational Service Agency in Wayne there are former Inkster, Robichaud, Westland John Glenn and Wayne Memorial seniors who have become teachers or are in college classrooms studying to become teachers.

And, if you're aspiring to become a teacher and do not have the funds to do so, RESA is offering scholarships to fulfill your dreams.

Friday, Feb. 16 is the deadline to apply for one of those scholarships from the Wayne RESA Future Teachers Scholarship Program.

Applications may be requested by calling Wayne RESA at (734) 334-1373 and are also available online at www.resa.net.

Wayne RESA, a regional educational service agency that serves the more than 20,000 teachers and nearly 500,000 children in Wayne County, formed the Future Teachers Scholarship Program in 1999 to strategically address critical issues facing the teaching profession and to recruit the best and brightest students in Wayne County to choose teaching as a career.

For the second year of the program, Wayne RESA has partnered with local school districts, professional associations, labor groups, businesses and individuals to support scholarships to graduating high school seniors from Wayne County local school districts who will be pursuing a degree in education.

Search on for alumnus of year

The search is on for the Distinguished Alumnus of the Year.

The Faculty Council at John Glenn is seeking nominations for its distinguished alumnus who will be honored during graduation ceremonies at Westland John Glenn.

"This is an annual presentation and one of the highlights of the graduation ceremony each year," stressed Joan M. Sedik, principal at John Glenn. "We feel that successful graduates, such as these, could have a positive motivational effect on the graduating seniors as well as the school community and faculty."

"We are proud of our graduates and want to share their success with the community," Sedik added.

Residents who know of a candidate worthy of the honor are urged to contact the high school. Pam Tucker is coordinating the search for the recipient of the year 2001 award.

Tucker may be reached at John Glenn High School, 36105 Marquette, Westland, Mich. 48185.

Wayne Winterfest Festival goes down as 'huge success'

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The 26th annual Wayne Winterfest was truly a 'real' winterfest. With a couple of inches of snow - or was that ice? on the ground - and temperatures at or below the freezing point, residents enjoyed the real sights of winter as well as the many entertaining programs offered by the Winterfest. The Winterfest is staged under the auspices of the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department. There literally was something for every age group: The middle school students enjoyed the performance of the popular, Rusty Lunchbox, a live band, and the students were treated to autographs signed by members of the group after the performance.

The Rug Rats and Pokeman characters who came alive on stage also were a hit at the Saturday Morning Kids Party. There were many other events for the children throughout the weekend of festivities. The participants enjoyed snow cones, hair wraps, face painting/tattoos, pizza dinner, underwater adventures and swimming with the dolphin inflatable.

Patrons also enjoyed the Synchronized Skating Exhibitions, the D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Program) Hockey game that put the Wayne and Westland Police Officers teams on the ice - Westland won. There was also a Mini-Mite hockey game. The Wayne Memorial High School Dance Teams entertained the Saturday crowd during the Community Showcase. Young and talented dancers from the Wayne Dance Classes also captivated the audience. There were over 200 persons who came to play a wide-range of games at the 14th Annual Kids Carnival, sponsored by the Figure Skaters Booster Club. The Wayne Civitans, the Beautification Committee, Business and Professional Women members were among the few groups represented at this year's festival. Patrons also enjoyed a performance of the Earth Angels. The Golden Hour Club sold Sanders Hot Fudge Sundaes on Saturday and Sunday to sweet-tooth festival patrons. Winterfest Committee members said that they are looking forward to a bigger and greater 27th annual festival a year from now

Annapolis Hospital seeking volunteers

Oakwood Annapolis Hospital in Wayne is looking for individuals with some time to spare to work as hospital volunteers. Volunteers are needed to provide clerical help in various departments, work in the Gift Shop and visit with patients, particularly in the NICHE unit (Networking to Improve Care for Hospitalized Elderly). The Gift Shop needs a volunteer skilled in accounting practices and Quicken software, as well as those who can work in sales. Volunteers also are needed for evenings and weekends as well as during the day, said Deborah Norton, volunteer recruitment officer for Oakwood Healthcare System. "We are asking that volunteers be at least 15 years old and be able to give us at least three hours in a block every week or every other week," Norton said. "Other than that, we don't have restrictions. If people are willing to volunteer, we'll find something that will suit them and help the hospital." Oakwood Annapolis will be happy to work with teenagers looking for volunteer opportunities to fulfill high school requirements, Norton noted. Prospective volunteers should call Deborah Norton at (313) 791-1991. Oakwood Annapolis Hospital is part of Oakwood Healthcare System, a comprehensive regional network of hospitals, healthcare centers, skilled nursing centers and related healthcare facilities. Oakwood has a medical staff of more than 1,200 doctors, and provides service to more than 1.2 million people in 35 southeastern Michigan communities. Oakwood's specialty services include women's and children's health (including high-risk obstetrics and neonatal care), geriatrics, emergency care, cancer care and cardiology. Oakwood was named one of the top 100 cardiology programs in the nation for two consecutive years. Oakwood is affiliated with the schools of medicine at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan and is a member of the University of Michigan Cancer Center Network. With more than 9,000 associates, Oakwood is the second-largest employer in suburban Wayne County.

Little known facts

Omnipresent Ronald McDonald made a special delivery to the Wayne Public Library to help promote Black History Month, celebrated throughout the month of February. The food chain celebrity personally delivered booklets entitled, {i}Little Known Black History Facts{r}, which will be available at the library while supplies last. The Wayne Public Library was the second stop of Ronald's busy day. His first performance was at Detroit's Museum of African American History.

Nakamoto takes her final bows with 'The Granny'

What happens when a fairy tale character decides to hang up her bonnet and nightgown and retire? According to the script from "The Granny", the other characters have an awards ceremony. Third and fifth graders at P. D. Graham Elementary School in the Wayne-Westland schools will perform "The Granny" at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Feb. 13 in the school gym. And they will perform it with mixed feelings. It is the last play longtime educator Jean Nakamoto will stage in the Wayne-Westland schools. She has announced her retirement. "It's an adorable fairy tale take off featuring the Granny from Little Red Riding Hood," said Nakamoto, who discussed the play but not her retirement plans. Nakamoto said there are about 55 students in the cast and

This performance will be out final farewell. eight musical numbers that include singing solos. Nakamoto and her partner, Mr. Phillips, have directed the plays at P. D. Graham for the past 30 years. Unfortunately, this will be their last production at the school since both educators have decided to retire in June. "This performance will be our final farewell," Nakamoto said. "We will take our last curtain call in Wayne-Westland with this enjoyable play." And you can be assured that there will be a standing room only audience to give Nakamoto and Phillips a standing ovation.

To initially receive this award, Brown had to complete a 180 hour program of continuing education. An additional 20 hours is required to recertify.

Three win essay contest

Three students from St. Aloysius School in Romulus have been informed they were winners in the America and Me Essay Contest sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance.

Darlie Atkinson placed first; Johanna Sovinski scored a second; and Ashley Pawlowski was named a third place winner. As the school's first place winner, Darlie's name will be engraved on a plaque that is permanently displayed at the school.

Conway named chair

Michael Conway, DTW's Director of External Affairs, was recently named chairman of the Marketing and Communications Committee of Airports Council International.

"I am deeply honored to be supported in this manner by my peers and the management of airports across North America," said Conway.

Conway is the first DTW executive to serve in a top ACI-NA leadership position since James Davey was chairman of the organization in 1974.

Voters made right choices with Godbout, DeHart, elected mayor

The intelligence of the voting community never ceases to amaze me. In both Westland and Wayne, last week, voters went to the polls and made the proper decisions.

In Westland two councilpeople were to be chosen, yet only one name appeared on the ballot. State laws, that need to be amended, and foul weather, made it extremely difficult for potential candidates to collect the allotted number of signatures in the short timespan allowed to have names appear on the ballot.

Incumbent councilperson Jim Godbout was the only candidate to get the required signatures. Having his name appear on the ballot essentially assured him the seat, but many felt former mayor and longtime councilperson Chuck Pickering would have enough name recognition to give Godbout a run. That assumption was erroneous as Godbout swamped Pickering and Dorothy Smith by a 4 to 1 margin.

In the second race, longtime Democratic State Representative, Eileen DeHart steamrolled two opponents in an exclusive write-in race. Even though Peggy Ellenwood served admirably the few months she was on the Council, DeHart's state experience will make her a major asset on the new council. Her name familiarity, plus the fact that she hasn't lost an election, made her a popular and easy choice for most voters.

Wayne voters rightfully approved an amendment that will now call for an elected mayor. In the past only the seven elected councilpeople could choose the mayor, allowing for backroom wheeling and dealing between council factions.

Opponents of this amendment point to the fact that the mayor's position is largely ceremonial and doesn't mean much in the City. Additionally, those opponents fear that this is only the first step in doing away with the City Manager form of government.

Addressing the latter, I think that to be unwarranted fear on the part of a few. The City Manager form of government has served the City of Wayne well for many many years. Most professionals believe it to be a far better form of government that a strong mayor where politics always seems to get in the way.

Mike's musings

But in Wayne, as in other city's, the title of mayor is meaningful, whether he be elected or appointed, parttime or full. As chairperson of the Council, the mayor wields great power. Don't tell me former mayors Pat Norton and Ken Warfield had no clout. Likewise, don't tell me parttime mayors, Hilliard Hampton, or his predecessor Edward Bivens in Inkster, aren't the most powerful people in their city.

It's just that when it comes to day-to-day operations, the City Manager runs those functions in an unpoliticized, professional atmosphere. Thus you might say, cities like Wayne and Inkster, have the best of both worlds with a mayor and city manager looking out for the citizens' best interests.

Boy's life worth more than bricks

Two men with long criminal records are behind bars after leading Canton police on a chase resulting in the death of Travis Miles, an 8-year-old Garden City boy.

Canton police expected a 35th District Court judge to throw the book at the men at their Tuesday afternoon arraignment (after this column was written), perhaps charging the driver with first degree murder.

The incident began at approximately 8:20 p.m. Saturday after Canton Police were tipped off that thieves were stealing construction materials from a site near Beck and Cherry Hill roads.

Responding patrolmen found two trucks loaded with construction material. One surrendered. The other stopped, then fled, heading eastbound on Cherry Hill at speeds ranging from 35 to 60 miles per hour. Canton officers pursued the vehicle into Westland.

At the intersection of Venoy and Cherry Hill, the suspects ran a red light and broadsided the vehicle carrying Miles. The crash killed the child and injured the driver, Michelle Burgess, his aunt.

Many, upon learning of the boy's tragic death, will be putting the United States Supreme Court on trial for its most recent ruling on police pursuit deaths and injuries.

On May 26, 1998, the Supremes ruled that police officers cannot be held liable for the deaths of innocent people who are killed or severely injured as the result of a reckless police chase.

"This decision means that police officers may disregard rules and guidelines concerning high speed vehicle pursuits," the ACLU of Southern California said at the time.

Following that decision, the Michigan Supreme Court ruled that police officers and municipalities could only be held responsible for deaths in police chases if they're grossly negligent and directly responsible.

This loophole makes it easier for officers to ignore department high-speed pursuit policies and regulations.

In Miles's death, those opposed to the carte blanche given by the courts to officers to initiate high speed chases might ask: Was a truckload of construction materials worth an 8-year-old's life?

"Of course not!" is my knee-jerk response. Police should not risk the lives of anybody over non-violent crimes. And pursuits are risky.

Though I don't have current statistics, in 1996, 377 people, including 103 police officers or innocent bystanders, died in high-speed pursuits.

In 1995, of the high-speed motor vehicle pursuits conducted during that year, about 40 percent resulted in accidents; 20 percent resulted in injury; and one percent resulted in death. About 60 percent of them were for nonviolent crimes.

In Michigan, more than 110 people died from chases in the 1990s, according to the Detroit Free Press.

The problem of pursuing violent criminals gets thornier. Public safety requires the capture of hostage-takers or people posing an immediate threat to themselves or others. The risk is worth it.

Nevertheless, it would best for police to evolve safer alternatives to action movie chases.

The ACLU of Southern California suggested having police agencies cooperate to track the location of a vehicle to safely stop and apprehend fleeing suspects.

Then there's the high-tech solution. Reportedly, the military is working on a ray gun that will jumble a vehicle's electrical system, causing it to stop.

And who knows what technics police could come up with in a brainstorming session: helicopter pursuits, weapons to disable tires, or ways to trace fugitive vehicles to kingdom come.

While the fleers must pay for the death of Travis Miles, I urge township officials and police to rethink their high-speed pursuit policies.

The life of Travis Miles and other innocents is worth more than a load of bricks.

Alison Carter excels at top college

Westland coed Alison Carter is setting the southern academic world on fire.

The Mississippi University for Women student earned a spot on the President's List for the fall 2000 semester.

To qualify for the President's List, the student must be enrolled full-time and have a perfect 4.0 quality point average.

Founded in 1884 as the first public college for women in America and admitting men since 1982, Mississippi University for Women currently is ranked the number one southern public liberal arts college by the U.S. News & World Report.

Open Meeting Act flouted

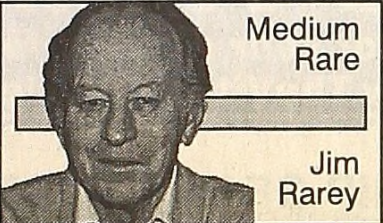

One of the things that upset community activists is the closed (executive) sessions held periodically by most city councils.

The Michigan Open Meetings Act (OMA) prohibits closed (secret) sessions of city councils (and boards of supervisors) with a few narrow exceptions.

For common sense reasons, discussions about the purchase of property by the city can be held in closed sessions. Likewise, discussion of city personnel problems or evaluations can be closed.

A third and most controversial exception allows closed sessions "to consult with its attorney regarding trial or settlement strategy in connection with specific pending litigation, but only if an open meeting would have a detrimental financial effect on the litigating or settlement position of the public body."

The decision and vote to hold a closed session must be taken in an open meeting and the subject of the closed session must be disclosed. Minutes of closed sessions are kept separate from minutes of open sessions and can only be made public pursuant to a court

Medium Rare

The vote on any actions resulting from the closed meeting discussions must be held in open session.

Do councils discuss other subjects in closed sessions that, by law, should be held in open session? It's pretty much an honor system and that's what drives citizen activists bonkers. Unless someone on the "inside" of the closed sessions is enforcing adherence to the law, no one will ever know.

In Troy, Councilman Martin Howrylak has filed a request with the state attorney general for an investigation of the council. He claims the council routinely discusses subjects in closed sessions that are not allowed under the Open Meetings Act. He says he has objected to holding some of the closed sessions but has been out-voted.

The Romulus City Council, which has probably the best procedures for public participation at open sessions, on numerous occasions has blatantly violated the OMA with regard to discussions on litigation.

In the vote to hold the closed sessions, it has not identified the specific litigation to be discussed. Even worse, it has come back into open session and voted to implement decisions made in the closed session, without disclosing the action being authorized.

To date, no formal request for investigation of these violations has been made. The undisclosed discussions and meaningless authorizing votes have resulted in over one million of taxpayers' dollars being spent on legal fees.

Conviction on a first violation of the OMA could result in a fine of up to $1,000. Conviction of a second offense in the same term of office is subject to a fine of $2,000 and/or imprisonment for not more than one year. The penalties are assessed against council members as individuals.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Romak responds to criticism

To the editor:

Why would someone be shocked or embarrassed by exercising their First Amendment Right? Part of America's history demonstrates many freedoms were gained by excising our Constitutional Rights. Making America what it is today. I was not excluded when I took my oath of office from excising my rights. I support the Constitution of the United States Of America. I believe and practice FREEDOM OF SPEECH OR OF THE PRESS, OR THE RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE PEACEABLY TO ASSEMBLE, AND TO PETITION THE GOVERNMENT FOR A REDRESS OF GRIEVANCES.

The radicals you refer to - you must mean husbands, wives, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, son, daughters, and yes grandparents and seniors too. They also choose to excise their FIRST AMENDMENT RIGHT TO PEACEABLY ASSEMBLE [protest].

Perhaps the word civil disobedience disturbs some, because they don't know the meaning according to Webster: refusal to obey certain governmental laws or demands in order to influence legislation or policy characterized by NONVIOLENT METHODS. I will emphasize NONVIOLENT METHODS.

Yes, I did take a oath-For the callers benefit-I do solemnly swear that I will support the CONSTITUTION of the UNITED STATES and the constitution of this state and I will faithfully perform the duties of the office of city council in and for the city of Romulus county of Wayne and state of Michigan, according to the best of my ability, so help me GOD. Under that same oath includes Romulus City Charter section 6-11 Health and Safety, for public peace, health, welfare and safety of persons and property. The intent of the state of Michigan to issue a permit to EDS DEEP WELL PROJECT IS NOT IN THE PUBLIC'S BEST INTEREST. The project poses unacceptable risks to our citizens, nose risks were affirmed by Gov. Engler's site review board. Director Harding of the MDEQ has ignored their recommendation. The state of Michigan's role was to protect and ensure public health, safety, and welfare of all the people. I will continue to redress our government. Our voices shall be heard by excising our FIRST AMENDMENT RIGHT.

Your comments on court decisions stand corrected. The City of Romulus did win the damage claim in the Michigan Supreme Court.

I, Deborah Romak have faithfully executed my oath of office and have no intentions of resigning. I Will continue to faithfully serve the citizens of Romulus to the best of my ability, so help me GOD.

My plans will be to seek reelection and let the will of the people speak in November.

Sincerely,
Debbie Romak

Author seeks fairy stories

To the editor:

I am the author of many books, several dealing with the unexplained such as The Children That Time Forgot and Mystic Forces.

I am now researching my new book, which looks at Elementals, i.e. creatures from a different sphere job existence, commonly referred to as fairies, elves, etc. I have collected some fascinating stories, for example, David, a perfectly sober, normal man was walking along a river bank one sunny afternoon, leading two horses back to his stables, when he heard a distinct voice coming from the stream.

He looked down and to his amazement he saw a tiny man (about a foot high) standing on a stone in the water, dressed in trousers, boots and shirt, remarking in an ordinary manly voice that there had been no fishing that morning.

He continued about the rain and how he hoped it would be better next day and how were they expected to survive without good fishing.

He then added that he shouldn't complain, as he wasn't as bad off as some of the others.

David watched him turn around as if looking out for something but the moment he made eye contact with the entity it vanished.

The horses were disturbed and remained agitated until they were safely back in their stables.

I would love to hear from any of your readers that have had a similar experience. Please send details directly to:

Is Belleville stuck in a rut?

Tigers keep looking for elusive win to clinch it

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Belleville remained stuck in a rut as Willow Run posted a significant upset over the undisputed Mega-Red Basketball Conference leaders Friday night.

With the unexpected help from a newly-suited up varsity player, the Flyers nailed a 78-73 loss to Belleville's record, leaving coach Rod Fishers' Tigers without the one victory that would clinch for them the divisional basketball title outright.

Belleville played an improved Romulus Tuesday night and, if they fail to get out of their modest two-game losing streak (Belleville also lost to Ann Arbor Pioneer on Tuesday), they then must get the job done at Wayne Memorial Friday night or face the possibility of sharing the championship.

Although no one is betting on back-to-back Belleville losses this week, it could happen.

Belleville was not prepared for Willow Run's long range bomber, Donnell Patterson, Friday night. Patterson apparently was elevated to varsity status a week ago and looked like a veteran pro against the Tigers.

The sophomore guard riddled the league's best team from afar. He made six of his team's 10 three-pointers, and teamed up with veteran co-pilot, Demarcus Billups, to combine for 48 of the Flyers' 78 points.

It was Patterson's heroics in the third period that led to Belleville's demise.

Of those six "treys", he connected on four of them in the third period to open up the Flyers' lead to 55-47.

Although Kris Miller and An-

Romulus must beat Belleville

For Romulus, the Mega-Red Division basketball title race came down to one game - coach Guy DelGiudice's ball club had to beat league-leading Belleville Tuesday night to stay "alive", then hope to get some help from Wayne Memorial.

With three losses, Romulus kept in the chase when Willow Run handed Belleville its first loss in 10 Mega-Red starts. Belleville entered the week with a 10-1 record; Romulus is 7-3, with two divisional games remaining.

"Mathematically we still have a chance, that is, if we can beat them (Belleville) on Tuesday," said DelGiudice during a Sunday telephone interview. "But we still have to contend with Willow Run (Friday), while they wrap it up against Wayne Memorial."

Before the home crowd Friday night, Romulus turned in one of its finest defensive performances of the season as the Eagles defeated a highly-toured Ypsilanti, 54-44.

Romulus held the Braves to nine points in the second period and pulled away by 12, 33-21, at the half before outscoring their visitors 17-13 and 17-10 in the final two periods.

"Defensively, I felt we played our best game," DelGiudice said. "Ypsi was very selective in their shots; methodical in implementing their game play against us."

"They have an excellent team." Romulus's 6-2 senior forward, Daniel Jarrett, also turned in his best overall effort of the season as he drilled 19 points while grabbing 10 rebounds. Junior guard Deon Solomon also hit in double figures. He scored 12 points.

Solomon, who missed the first part of the 2000-2001 campaign, due to eligibility requirements, has provided the Eagles with sta-

Chiefs stunned by 2 losses

Plymouth-Canton did everything right against Farmington, with one exception - they didn't outscore their Western Lakes basketball opponent.

The Chiefs outrebounded their hosts, held their turnovers to a minimum and shot 55 percent from the field in the loss.

But, when the final score was posted, coach Jeremy Rheault and the Chiefs were looking at a 53-47 loss.

"We didn't get the breaks at the end," moaned Rheault. "I felt we did everything right, but, of course, it was still a loss."

Unlike the Friday night game at Livonia Franklin, where the Chiefs hit a mere 32 percent from the floor and had trouble stopping the creative 6-3, senior guard Joe Ruggiero, who led the Patriots to a 52-47 victory, Canton had a shot at beating Farmington last Tuesday.

Farmington forged its way to a 16-7 advantage for the first period before Canton's Oliver Wolcott sparked a rally that lifted the visitors to within a basket, 24-22, of tying the score at halftime.

Although Farmington outscored Canton 11-10 in the third period, and held a 35-32 lead as the fourth quarter began, the Chiefs still had ample opportunities to salt this one away.

But they could not do it.

Wolcott finished with 16 points, one more than Farmington's top scorer, Mike Mikels, who had 15.

Ruggiero broke open a close game by scoring 11 of his game high 21 points after the intermission. Canton led 13-11 after the first quarter, but the Patriots managed to go up, 25-24, at the half before Ruggiero's outburst in the third period. Franklin had a 14-point advantage (47-33) going into the fourth quarter.

Canton's Jerry Gaines, who scored 10 points and collected seven rebounds, was the top scorer for the Chiefs. Teammates Jerry Sofen and Wolcott each scored eight.

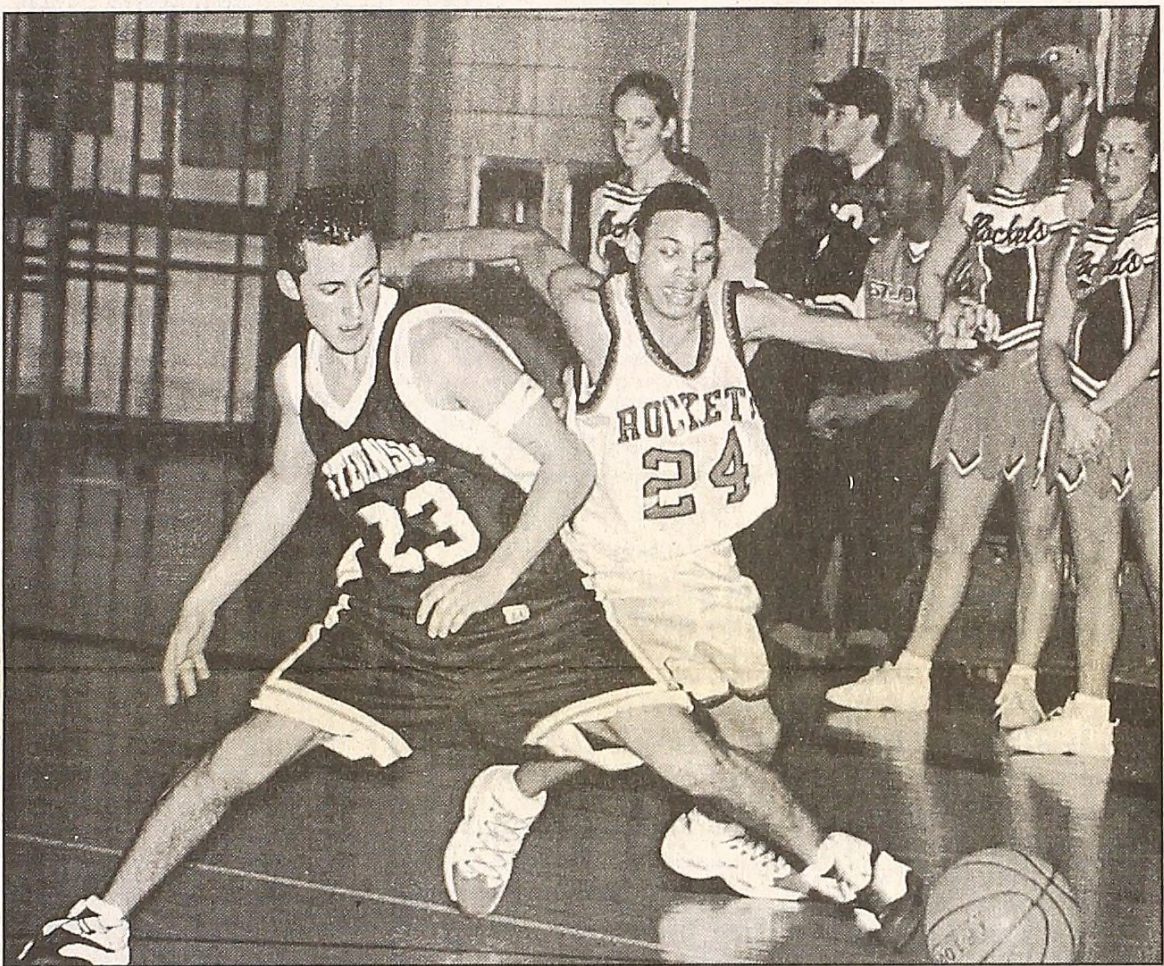

Canton was scheduled to meet undefeated Walled Lake Central Tuesday night and will wrap up the current conference season at home, entertaining Livonia Churchill.

Inkster to host hoops tourney

Inkster Parks and Recreation officials will host a junior basketball tournament at Inkster High and the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Center.

The tournament will be staged April 6-8. The entry fee is $95 and the deadline to submit an application to compete is March 16.

For information, contact Inkster Parks and Recreation Department at 734-728-7530.

Although it may look like they're playing soccer rather than basketball, the loose ball attracts the attention of a Livonia Stevenson player and John Glenn's Cedric Sims (24). Rockets: Win one, lose one - how strong will they finish?

It has been a frustrating basketball season for first-year Westland John Glenn coach Joel Lloyd and the Rockets. And, last week exemplified - or did it multiply? - that frustration.

Glenn edged Livonia Churchill, 48-44, on Tuesday for its third victory in the Western Lakes, then dropped a heart-breaking 57-56 decision to Livonia Stevenson that dipped their W-L record to 3-6.

As the week began, the Westlanders find themselves in 9th place, or near the bottom of the conference standings. Unless they find a way to beat dead-eye Joe Ruggiero and the Livonia Franklin Patriots (Tuesday night) and Farmington (Friday night), Glenn won't be invited to the big dance, known as the conference playoffs.

Glenn's final two games of the regular season are on the road.

The Westlanders had Stevenson on the ropes Friday night and couldn't come up with the uppercut that would have put the Spartans away. With 2:53 left, the Rockets had a 52-46 lead. They then hit a scoring drought that extended into the OT. Glenn didn't score another point until Mike Franks' three-pointer in the first minute of the overtime.

It just was not to be for the hosts.

How else can one explain the unusual and strange chain of events that led to the loss. Like, with 15 seconds left in regulation play, and the score tied at 53, Franks stole the ball and had a clear path to the Stevenson basket for an easy layup when he slipped and fell.

In the OT, Stevenson outscored their hosts, 5-3.

Stevenson's Lindon Ivezaj, who nailed a three from atop of the key that tied the game, led all scorers with 24 points. Ivezaj's teammate, Matt Bartnick, finished with 16. Glenn countered with 17 points from Brent Bogle. Anthony Harrell and Franks each contributed eight points for the Rockets who made eight of 15 from the free throw line.

Franks came up with two back-to-back 3-point plays that sealed Glenn's 48-44 victory over Churchill. The Chargers had the lead early in the fourth period in a game that was more cat-

Dramatic turnaround after horrendous 0-7 start

Is there life after an 0-7 start? You bet there is.

Ask Plymouth-Salem and basketball coach Bob Brodie.

After launching the 21st Century with a record-breaking seven consecutive losses, Brodie's Rocks have made a dramatic turnaround and have won six straight and, as the week begins, find themselves comfortably seated in second place in the Western Lakes Basketball Conference.

"There's nothing like winning after a drought," says Brodie, who is quick to caution that "the road ahead isn't going to be an easy one."

"We still have the conference and the district playoffs ahead, but it isn't time to think about that."

What Brodie and Salem have to contend with this week are two tough conference teams. On Tuesday, they visited Northville, a team that always has managed to frustrate Brodie's ball clubs in the past.

Then, on Friday, Salem will bring the curtains down on the regular season on the home pine. They'll host North Farmington.

The Salem-Farmington game Friday night began in slow tempo, almost in slow-motion, before the Rocks pulled out an exciting, last second 53-52 victory.

Salem led 8-7 after the first period only to fall behind at the halfway mark, 21-17.

"I knew we had to change the tempo if we were going to win this one," said Brodie.

Half-court traps and full-court presses were the catalysts for that change.

But, neither team managed to build up any substantial lead, and the outcome went right down to the wire.

Salem came back after the initial half and outscored their visitors 19-15 to go up, 38-36, for three quarters. The Rocks edged Farmington, 17-16, in the final quarter.

And Salem did it in dramatic fashion.

With 38 seconds left in the game, Farmington's Brad Barenie, who scored 16 points for the game, was awarded a pair of free throws and sank the first, giving the visitors a 52-51 lead.

Brodie immediately called "time out" to discuss strategy and allow the free thrower to sweat it out.

The second shot failed, and the ball eventually went to Salem's Scott Discher, who made his way to the left base line against a collapsed Farmington defense.

Finding the back door closed, Discher wisely decided to dish the ball out to teammate Jeff Haar who didn't hesitate. He converted, giving the Rocks a 53-52 lead.

Farmington had less than five seconds to respond. The visitors got the ball down the length of the floor and the final shot was launched just as Dave Hoskins stepped into the picture and rejected it.

Nick Tochman scored a Salem high 16 points and shared individual scoring honors with Barenie, who hit on five 3-pointers. Discher finished with 11 points.

Earlier in the week, Tochman tossed in 21 points, Harr had 17 and Hoskins contributed 13, as the Rocks turned back Farmington Hills Harrison, 65-60, Tuesday night.

Harrison actually led 19-10 and 30-26 after the first two quarters, but Salem's balanced scoring attack eliminated the deficit with a 22-14 final period.

Harrison's Darius Brown tallied 23 points.

Wayne moves victory closer to showdown

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With the help of two wins each from Chris Webber and Kyle Scott, Wayne Memorial swept 11 of the 12 events against Taylor Truman to win an 86-64 dual swim meet victory in the Mega-White Division.

The fourth win in five divisional starts moved coach Mike Gruber's Zebras one step closer to a showdown with Dearborn Edsel Ford for the conference title. The T-Birds are the only team that has defeated Wayne this season.

Undeclared Edsel will go into next week's conference championship as the title favorite, with Wayne the second-best choice to take the title. The championship will be decided Feb. 21-22-23 at Trenton High School.

"The swimmers are improving and remain focused on our objectives," said Gruber after the Truman meet.

Wayne wrapped up the dual meet season Tuesday night at Garden City. The Zebras were not expected to meet a lot of opposition from the Jaguars, who are rebuilding under coach Donald Sweet.

Webber, who has stood out during the year, captured a first place in the 100-meter freestyle as he completed the event in 52.9. He was also the winner in the 100-meter breaststroke, posting a 1:10.3 for the victory.

In the meantime, Scott churned a 1:05.3 for his win in the 100-meter backstroke. Earlier, he swam a 24.7 to win the 50-meter freestyle.

Wayne also won the 100-meter butterfly as Andrew Drennan led the field to the wall. He posted a 1:10.3 for the victory.

There was a "dead heat" for first place in the 500-yard freestyle as Wayne's Jeremy Bowling and Brad Chaisson were clocked in the identical times of 5:45.4.

Wayne's Jason Bruchard was the top diver in the meet. He piled up 130 points.

Gruber's 200-meter medley (1:57.8), 200-meter freestyle (1:42.2), and the 400-meter freestyle (3:51.1) also were winners.

Brooks shuffles hoops lineup to fill thinning Viking gaps

By TOM MORRADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With the sudden and unexpected departure of one of his regulars to a neighboring school district, Inkster basketball coach Steve Brooks was forced to shuffle his lineup last week to fill a gaping hole.

"We have only eight players as it is," said Brooks, after Dearborn Fordson crushed the Vikings 64-49 in a Mega-White game. "But these kids are tough. They have closed ranks and are bound and determined to play the best they can."

Fordson, a title contender in the Mega-White, jumped out to a 21-10 lead in the first period, but Inkster held the Tractors to six scored in double figures. Darius Kincannon tallied 15 points while Mike Hunter scored 10 for the Vikings who had 12 opportunities at the free throw line and made seven of them.

Rojello Grady, returning to the Fordson lineup after a two game suspension for an altercation during the Dearborn Heights Robichaud game, knocked down 12 points and Said Nimer added 10.

Taylor Truman turned back Inkster 66-50 as the Vikings failed to put a player into the double figure scoring column.

Inkster wraps up its first Mega-White campaign Friday night at home entertaining natural opponent, Robichaud. They visited Highland Park on Tuesday.

Run run sealed the Tigers' fate.

Canton wrestlers finish 3rd at conference tourney

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

For a brief spell during the 2000-2001 Western Lakes Conference wrestling championships, Plymouth-Canton for the first time in its history held a lead.

Could coach John Demsick and the Chiefs hold on to the lead and capture their first-ever conference crown?

"We were short two starters with others in questionable health," commented Demsick, who later said that he knew his team just couldn't hang on.

Northville pressed on hard and kept up its tradition of winning the conference title. The champs compiled a total of 228 points to finish atop of a field that included 11 other opponents.

Walled Lake Western wound up runners-up with 188 points, followed closely by Canton wrestlers who finished third with 187. Plymouth-Salem was fourth (169), followed by Livonia Stevenson (151), Westland John Glenn (122.5), Livonia Churchill (114), Walled Lake Central (86), Livonia Franklin (73.5), North Farmington (64), Farmington (57), while Farmington Hills Harrison didn't field a team this year.

Canton, although disappointed with its third place finish, moved up a couple of notches from last year's standings.

"We have a lot of confidence in our guys. We felt that we could have won even with the guys we took. We ended up with five guys in the finals with only two more going for third and fourth consolations compared to our normal 10 or 11 who we normally have in the finals and consolations," said Demsick.

Canton emerged with a gold-medalist in Greg Musser, who placed first at 140. Teammates Doy Demsick (125), Scott McKee (171), Phil Rothwell (189) and Derek McWatt (heavyweight) won silver medals.

Chris Hosey (135) and Mike

Seigrist (145) came home with third-place honors.

Also, Canton brought the curtains down on the dual meet season with an impressive 31-24 victory over natural rival, Plymouth-Salem.

"Salem put up a good fight," said Demsick later. "Some of the matches we would have liked to have gone the other way. It made it exciting, particularly, the 189-pound match with two underweights going into overtime."

Canton received strong victories by: Doy Demsick over Nate Dillard, 8-1; Chris Hosey over Tony Stott, 8-2; Mike Seigrist over Brian Shultz, 12-5; Joe Faraoni over Craig Blair, 14-4, and Scott McKee over Phil Portellos, 4-0.

A couple of big men on the Chiefs' squad won by pins: Phil Rothwell over Zach, and Derek McWatt over Jeremy Walker.

Also, Canton's Derek Miller defeated Quenton Arndt in an OT match, 10-8.

Churchill scored two points in the first eight minutes and Glenn had them, 9-2, after one period. But the visitors came back and closed the gap, 22-18, at the half. The Chargers came within a basket, 32-30, of tying the score for three and went ahead early in the fourth thanks to a basket by Will Pendergrass.

Pendergrass' 19 points topped all scorers. Brent Bogle tossed in 12 points to lead the Rockets.
